What are the roles and responsibilities of the CSD's board of directors (or equivalent), and are they clearly specified? Please provide details of the structure and composition of your Board together with their industry experience and responsibilities in governing the CSD. What are the qualifications to become a board member?

CVSA's Board of directors is currently composed of 6 members. The Board has ample powers. The Chief Internal Audit Officer reports any findings and observations to the Board. There is only limited and statistical information published through CVSA's website. The Board's size is determined by the CSD's Charter and recognised by law. The Board shall be integrated by at least three (3) and at most six (6) regular members who shall be mainly industry participants. Members are appointed by shareholders in the general meeting, for a term of one (1) year, and they may be re-elected indefinitely. The Shareholders' Meeting may also elect one of the Board members to fill the position of Chief Executive Officer (CEO), for a term of one (1) year. The Board's Chairman represents legally the company and it will be liable for chairman's decisions. There are 5 committees dedicated to specific areas: Technology and Information Security, Investments, Application of the Code of Conduct and Ethic, Crisis and Risk Management Committee. According to the Charter, an executive committee could be created which would be in charge of the company's business but it has not been created yet. One of the Directors is designated as the Company's compliance officer, in accordance with the anti-money laundering rules. Alternates, the Assembly assess the experience, capacity and professional suitability that they possess for the development of its functions, taking as a parameter the good corporate governance practices. The appointed Directors must enjoy the due integrity and reputation, ensure sound and prudent management, in accordance with that established in the laws or in the regulations that issue control authority. The current members have a vast experience in the capital markets and represent important firms of the local market.

AGC: 7e

What are the election procedures?

The Directors and Alternates are elected by the Ordinary Shareholders' Meeting according to the procedure established in the Statute.

AGC: 7f

What is the maximum length of time a board member can serve?

Their term of office is one (1) year and may be re-elected indefinitely.

AGC: 7g

How are the voting powers distributed amongst the board members (i.e. does each board member have one vote or do certain members have additional voting power)?

The Directory will work with the presence of half plus one of its members and adopt its resolutions by majority. In case of a tie, the President will break the tie voting again. No member has additional voting power.

AGC: 7h

What are the procedures established to review the performance of the board as a whole and the performance of the individual board members? Who is responsible for regulating the board members?

The General Meeting of Shareholders is responsible for regulating the board members, according to the provisions of the Bylaws.

On the other hand, CVSA has implemented an annual board evaluation, in order to improve the corporate governance. The Board Evaluation policy is to assess and enhance the effectiveness of the Board as a whole. Individual Board members are assessed on their effective contribution and commitment to their role and responsibilities as Directors

AGC members from time to time receive requests from their direct investor-clients for an informational copy of a CSD's completed questionnaire. Such requests typically lead to interactions between personnel at the CSD in question and member personnel or client personnel, or both. Those interactions take time and impose costs on both members and depositories. Do you approve of AGC members delivering a copy of your completed questionnaire to the member's direct client in response to the client's request?
